

We are absolutely, without a doubt, 100% open for business.

Louvers International remains fully operational at our Chicagoland (Elmhurst, IL) headquarters with a full warehouse, production, and shipping staff. Sales and administration personnel are working either in-house and/or remotely. We are also working with all key suppliers to ensure a productive, proactive supply chain to maintain our high level of service.

We are here for you during this difficult time, finding new ways to serve our customers and the lighting industry as a whole.

Please stay safe and follow the CDC's guidelines. The example you set is a ripple that can turn into waves if we all stick together.

Sincerely,

The entire team at Louvers International
